Prologue

One sunny morning, a little bunny opened his eyes to a day full of possibilities. Outside his window, the world shimmered with warmth and wonder. Today felt special — as if something magical were waiting just beyond the door.

What Bunny didn't know yet was that this day would bring more than just sunshine. It would bring adventure. A letter from the Temple of Knowledge, a flying machine, new friends, And a journey through parks, oreams, and dazzling places — all guided by one cheerful, dancing letter: the Letter D.

This is not just a story about the alphabet. It's a story about discovery — of the world, of learning, and of yourself. So come along with Bunny and the gang. Let's explore, dream, and grow — one delightful "D" at a time.

One morning, little Bunny woke up to find Daddy Rabbit at home. He had brought a juicy watermelon and a variety of seeds from the greenhouse.

Little Bunny especially loved sunflower seeds, pumpkin seeds, pistachios, and nuts. For breakfast, he munched happily on watermelon seeds and smiled with delight.

After such a tasty meal, he felt like singing, He softly hummed his favorite song as he walked outside.

Outside, his friends were already playing: Bear Cub, Puppy, Kitten, Goose, and Squirrel Violetta.

Three of them were playing dominoes.
Two were swinging, and Bear Cub and Kitten sat together under an umbrella, Puppy and Bunny walked over to join them.

Little Bunny—hello! What are you to?
Bear Cub:—
Let's play dominoes!

Can I join you today?
Bunny asked,
- Of course!" Bear Cub smiled.

Hello, kids! I'm Letter D
from the Temple of Knowledge!
Today, I'll teach you how to write my letter— and we'll go on a fantastic adventure!

“Where are we going?”
—asked Bunny excitedly.
